

34-Year Men at National Supply to 'Take It Easy'

Two veteran employees of the National Supply Co. and residents of Torrance retired this week after more than 34 years at the local plant.

They are Ludwig Miller, a lead man in the inspection department, and Louis Lisoni, a blacksmith and heavy forger. Miller plans to move to Yucaipa and "rest for a while," while Lisoni plans to make an auto journey to see America.

Miller and his wife, Helena, came to Torrance in 1919 and went to work for National Supply three years later. They moved into their present home at 1317 Beech Ave., which was "way out in the sticks" in 1930.

Move Planned
They are selling their home to their son, Richard, a teacher at Riviera School, and will move to Yucaipa at the end of January. He plans to rest a while and pursue his hobby, woodworking.

He is now president of the Torrance Breakfast Club and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and American Legion. He and his wife also have been active in the Central Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mrs. Miller was the first registrar of voters here after Torrance became a city and ran restaurant and dry cleaning businesses for several years. Recently, she has been associated with Alter Real Estate.

Active in Clubs
She was active in the Eastern Star and the Breakfast Club.

The couple also have three grandchildren.

A resident at 1732 Martina Ave., Lisoni also is retiring after 34 years at National Supply. He came to Torrance in 1923, after spending five years as a copper miner and blacksmith for the Southern Pacific.

"I've bent thousands of tons of steel in my day," he declared.

Moose Slate Two Dinners, Polio Dance

Two social events and a community program are featured on the January calendar of the Torrance lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, Fred Lydy, governor, announced this week.

Plans are being made for the annual "March of Dimes" party and dance by William Griep and his committee, and the date of the gala affair will be announced at a regular dance to be held at the lodge hall, 1744 W. Carson St., Saturday night.

The entire admission proceeds of the "dance so that others may walk" civic affair program of the lodge are presented to the Polio Foundation.

A Swiss steak dinner will be offered at the lodge hall prior to the regular dance on Saturday, from 6 to 8 p.m., according to George Clay, lodge chef. The public is invited.

Dan Hutchinson, lodge trustee, has revealed that an unusual dinner will be served on Sunday, Jan. 19, at the lodge hall. A Swedish rabbit dinner will be served to the public starting at 4 p.m. at $1 per plate, and the proceeds will be donated to the Little Company of Mary Hospital.

Democrats Gathering in Fresno For Council Endorsing Session

Three thousand delegates and alternates representing every California assembly district will convene in Fresno this week end for the California Democratic Council endorsing convention. The convention was described by the organization's newly elected president, Los Angeles attorney Joseph L. Wyatt Jr., as "free-wheeling and wide open."

"These delegates," Wyatt said, "are amateur politicians working for the love of their party. No one will try to dictate their choice of candidates and no one could succeed if he made the attempt."

"Everyone is united behind Attorney General Brown for Governor, but there is controversy in the senatorial race, with Congressman Clair Engle, Dr. Peter Odegaard, of the University of California, and Kenneth Hahn, Los Angeles County Supervisor, all commanding strong support."

Earlier in the week Wyatt announced that Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan will be convention "keynote," and will fly in from Lansing where he is in the midst of a legislative session, to be in California for one day only.

Looking at the other statewide offices for which the California Democratic Council will endorse candidates, Wyatt said, "There will be competition for every spot except the governorship, the office of controller, being sought by Alan Cranston, former CDC president, and apparently the attorney generalship. Only Superior Court Judge Stanley Mosk of Los Angeles has announced for the CDC endorsement so far, but it seems certain he will be opposed by State Senator Robert I. McCarthy of San Francisco, who has announced but will not seek CDC endorsement."

All other announced candidates, Wyatt pointed out, are actively seeking CDC endorsement and have stated they will not run without it.

The CDC is the only statewide Democratic Party organization which endorses candidates in statewide elections and its purpose is to give working Democrats a forum where they can decide whether they want to unite behind one Democrat in the primary.

Four Southern Californians are making a bid for delegate support in the Treasurer's race, Wyatt said. They include Jerry Chapman, City Treasurer of Compton; Claude Young, attorney from Santa Ana; Sander Johnson, Los Angeles attorney; and Bert A. Betts, San Diego accountant.

Two more Southern Californians have announced they will seek endorsement for Secretary of State—Henry Lopez, a Los Angeles attorney, and John Anson Ford, member of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors for 24 years and former Democratic National Committeeman.

Wyatt also pointed to the race for Lieutenant-Governor where Tom Carrell, San Fernando Valley automobile dealer and a treasurer of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Glenn Anderson, former State Assemblyman, former mayor of Hawthorne, past Democratic state chairman and past CDC vice president, are vying for convention approval.

The convention will convene at 9 p.m., Friday, at the Fresno auditorium with the keynote speech by Governor Williams. During the first session there will be nominations for endorsement for Governor, U. S. Senator and Controller. Balloting for these will take place Saturday. Saturday night the convention will endorse for Lieutenant-Governor and Attorney General.
